NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORD ADMINISTRATION, FREEDMEN'S BUREAU PRESERVATION PROJECT

This National Archives microfilm publication is part of a multiyear project to microfilm the field office records of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands (Freedmen's Bureau). The project was made possible by the United States Congress through The Freedmen's Bureau Records Preservation Act of 2000 (Public Law 106-444). When completed, all of the field records for the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and for the District of Columbia will be available on microfilm. For microfilm availability and description, consult the current edition of the National Archives publication Microfilm Resources for Research: A Comprehensive Catalog. INTRODUCTION

On the 90 rolls of this microfilm publication, M1903, are reproduced the previously unfiled records of the Georgia staff offices and subordinate field offices of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands, 1865-1872. These records consist of bound volumes and unbound records, containing materials that include letters and endorsements sent and received, monthly reports, registers of patients, orders and circulars issued and received, and other records relating to freedmen's complaints and contracts. These records are part of the Records of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands, Record Group (RG) 105.

This film series completes the reproduction of all Bureau records created in Georgia between 1865 and 1872. Many of these records were reproduced in 1969 in National Archives Microfilm Publications M798, Records of the Assistant Commissioner for the State of Georgia, Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands, 1865-1869, and M799, Records of the Superintendent of Education for the State of Georgia, Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands, 1865-1870.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

The Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands, also known as the Freedmen's Bureau, was established in the War Department by an act of Congress on March 3, 1865 (13 Stat. 507). The life of the Bureau was extended twice by acts of July 16, 1866 (14 Stat. 173), and July 6, 1868 (15 Stat. 83). The Bureau was responsible for the supervision and management of all matters relating to refugees and freedmen, and of lands abandoned or seized during the Civil War. In May 1865, President Andrew Johnson appointed Maj. Gen. Oliver Otis Howard as Commissioner of the Bureau, and Howard served in that position until June 30, 1872, when activities of the Bureau were terminated in accordance with an act of June 10, 1872 (17 Stat. 366). While a major part of the Bureau's early activities involved the supervision of abandoned and confiscated property, its mission was to provide relief and help freedmen become self-sufficient. Bureau officials issued rations and clothing, operated hospitals and refugee camps, and supervised labor contracts. In addition, the Bureau managed apprenticeship disputes and complaints, assisted benevolent societies in the establishment of schools, helped freedmen in legalizing marriages entered into during slavery, and provided transportation to refugees and freedmen who were attempting to reunite with their families or relocate to other parts of the country. The Bureau also helped black soldiers, sailors, and their heirs collect bounty claims, pensions, and back pay.

The act of March 3, 1865, authorized the appointment of Assistant Commissioners to aid the Commissioner in supervising the work of the Bureau in the former Confederate states, the border states, and the District of Columbia. While the work performed by Assistant Commissioners in each state was similar, the organizational structure of staff officers varied from state to state. At various times, the staff could consist of a superintendent of education, an assistant adjutant general, an assistant inspector general, a disbursing officer, a chief medical officer, a chief quartermaster, and a commissary of subsistence. Subordinate to these officers were the assistant superintendents, or subassistant commissioners as they later became known, who commanded the subdistricts.

The Assistant Commissioner corresponded extensively with both his superior in the Washington Bureau headquarters and his subordinate officers in the subdistricts. He prepared reports that he sent to the Commissioner concerning Bureau activities in areas under his jurisdiction, based upon reports submitted to him by the subassistant commissioners and other subordinate staff officers. He also received letters from freedmen, local white citizens, state officials, and other non-Bureau personnel. These letters varied in nature from complaints to applications for jobs in the Bureau. Because the assistant adjutant general handled much of the mail for the Assistant Commissioner's office, letters were often addressed to him instead of to the Assistant Commissioner.

In a circular issued by Commissioner Howard in July 1865, the Assistant Commissioners were instructed to designate one officer in each state to serve as "general Superintendents of Schools." These officials were to "take cognizance of all that is being done to educate refugees and freedmen, secure proper protection to schools and teachers, promote method and efficiency, correspond with the benevolent agencies which are supplying his field, and aid the Assistant Commissioner in making his required reports." In October 1865, a degree of centralized control was established over Bureau educational activities in the states when Rev. John W. Alvord was appointed Inspector of Finances and Schools. In January 1867, Alvord was divested of his financial responsibilities, and he was appointed General Superintendent of Education.

An act of Congress, approved July 25, 1868 (15 Stat. 193), ordered that the Commissioner of the Bureau "shall, on the first day of January next, cause the said bureau to be withdrawn from the several States within which said bureau has acted and its operation shall be discontinued." Consequently, in early 1869, with the exception of the superintendents of education and the claims agents, the Assistant Commissioners and their subordinate officers were withdrawn from the states.

For the next year and a half the Bureau continued to pursue its education work and to process claims. In the summer of 1870, the superintendents of education were withdrawn from the states, and the headquarters staff was greatly reduced. From that time until the Bureau was abolished by an act of Congress approved June 10, 1872 (17 Stat. 366), effective June 30, 1872, the Bureau's functions related almost exclusively to the disposition of claims. The Bureau's records and remaining functions were then transferred to the Freedmen's Branch in the office of the Adjutant General. The records of this branch are among the Bureau's files.

Constrained by limited resources, Southern opposition, and the politics of Reconstruction, the Bureau faced an enormous challenge in its efforts to assist the freedmen and refugees. Its relief efforts, without question, saved thousands of southerners from starvation. Its attempts to assist freedmen to become self-sufficient, to provide public education, administer justice, and, to a lesser degree, to provide land, all worked with varying degrees of success to lessen the difficulties during the transition from slavery to freedom. One of the Bureau's greatest legacies is the body of records it created and received during the course of its operations. These records are arguably some of the most important documents available for the study of the Federal Government's policies, efforts to reconstruct the South, and Southern social history and genealogy.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU IN GEORGIA

Organization

Bvt. Maj. Gen. Rufus Saxton, who had directed the "Port Royal Experiment," was appointed Assistant Commissioner for South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. Saxton established his headquarters at Beaufort, SC, in June 1865, and assigned Gen. Edward A. Wild the responsibility for Bureau affairs in part of Georgia. In September 1865, after Wild was relieved from duty, the office of Assistant Commissioner for Georgia was established, and Brig. Gen. Davis Tillson was appointed as Acting Assistant Commissioner, with exclusive control of all matters concerning the Bureau in Georgia. Tillson reported to General Saxton in South Carolina until December 1865, when he was ordered to report thereafter directly to Commissioner Howard at Washington. Generally, the records pertaining to Georgia and Florida that were created during this early period are included among those of the Assistant Commissioner of South Carolina.

The organization of the Bureau in Georgia was similar to that of the Bureau headquarters in Washington. The Assistant Commissioner's staff included an assistant adjutant general, an assistant inspector general, a chief quartermaster and disbursing officer, and a superintendent of education. Three officers served as Assistant Commissioner in Georgia between 1865 and 1869 and located the Bureau offices in four different cities during that period. General Tillson first established his headquarters at Augusta in September 1865 but moved it to Savannah in October 1866. Col. Caleb C. Sibley succeeded Tillson as Assistant Commissioner in January 1867, and 2 months later he moved the headquarters from Savannah to Macon. It remained there until July 1867, when the office was transferred to Atlanta. In October 1868, Maj. John R. Lewis replaced Sibley as Assistant Commissioner. Lewis served until the office was discontinued in May 1869. From January to May 1869, Major Lewis combined the duties of Assistant Commissioner, with those of superintendent of education. After the office of the Assistant Commissioner was discontinued, Lewis continued to serve as superintendent of education until May 1870.

The major subordinate field offices for the Bureau in Georgia, for example, included those with headquarters at Albany, Americus, Athens, Atlanta, Augusta, Columbus, Macon, and Savannah. Under the direct supervision of the subassistant commissioners were the civilian and military agents. Occasionally, the Bureau retained military officers in a civilian capacity after the termination of their military service. For a list of selected Georgia subordinate field office personnel and their dates of service, see the Appendix.

Activities

The major activities of the Freedmen's Bureau in Georgia generally resembled those conducted in other states. The Bureau issued rations and provided medical relief to both freedmen and white refugees, supervised labor contracts between planters and freedmen, administered justice, and worked with benevolent societies in the establishment of schools.

When General Davis Tillson took over as Assistant Commissioner for the Freedmen's Bureau in Georgia in September 1865, many of the major cities and towns in the state were troubled with overcrowding, disease, and poverty. In the cities of Macon, Atlanta, Augusta, and Savannah, freedmen and refugees were living in some of the most crowded and deplorable conditions, and many were in dire need of food and clothing, shelter, and medical attention.¹ Convinced, however, that Federal Government relief should be temporary and solely for the needy, General Tillson issued an order on October 3, 1865, prohibiting the distribution of rations to freedmen and refugees who were able-bodied but refused work. To discourage idleness and dependency, Tillson further ordered that only those persons who were able to provide for themselves would be allowed to remain in the towns and cities. Those who desired to stay, said Tillson, "must be compelled, if necessary, to go to the country and accept places of labor found by themselves, or for them, by officers or agents of the Bureau."²

Tillson's orders were strictly enforced. One month after his pronouncement, rations issued in Savannah had been reduced from 120,000 to 60,000 per month. For the month of June of 1866, the number of rations issued for the entire State of Georgia totaled less than 20,000. However, in spite of the Bureau's "self-help" policy, limited resources, and the belief that local governments should play a greater role in providing relief for the destitute, the Georgia Bureau issued some 847,669 rations from June 1865 to September 1866. Although the Bureau's actions prevented wholesale starvation and untold suffering, the agency's rations-relief efforts were far less extensive than what Bureau officials had done during the same period in Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia. Tillson's successors, Assistant Commissioners Caleb C. Sibley (January 1867–October 1868) and John R. Lewis

(October 1868–May 1869) continued to follow the policy of providing limited rations relief. During their tenures, rations were issued only in emergencies and for the most part to hospitals and asylums.³

The Georgia Bureau's policy of temporary relief for the needy also guided its approach in providing medical care and assistance for the destitute. Like its ration program, the Bureau viewed its responsibility as one of providing temporary medical relief, primarily in cases of extreme emergencies. The Bureau believed that the ultimate responsibility for providing medical care to those in need lay with Georgia civil authorities. J. W. Lawton, who served as surgeon-in-chief under General Tillson, saw the use of dispensaries as the best means of administering medical relief and the most effective approach to encourage civil officials to take on some of the cost for operating them. Lawton and his successor at various times maintained dispensaries at Albany, Americus, Brunswick, Columbus, Darien, Newton, St. Catherine's Island, St. Marys, and Stone Mountain. The Bureau's medical department also opened hospitals with the idea of eventually turning them over to state and local authorities. The Bureau maintained hospitals at Atlanta, Augusta, Columbus, Macon, and Savannah. At the height of its medical operations (1866–67), however, the agency employed just 13 physicians. Nonetheless, with its limited and over burdened medical staff, the Bureau treated more than 5,000 freedmen for various ailments and vaccinated some 20,000 freedmen and refugees against smallpox from September 1, 1865, through September 20, 1866. By September 1867, the number of freedmen treated by Bureau nearly tripled. At the end of June 1868, close to 17,000 freed men, women, and children received treatment. Despite the Bureau's efforts to treat the weak, the sick, and infirm, the mortality rate among freedmen remained high. By late 1868, most of the Bureau's medical activities ceased, and care for the destitute was turned over to local authorities.⁴

In Georgia, as in other states under the Bureau's jurisdiction, the regulation of written labor contracts between planters and freedmen was of paramount concern. General Tillson's order of October 3, 1865 (Circular Number 2), which restricted the issuing of rations only to those in need, also instructed his subordinates to "make immediate and vigorous efforts" to secure work for unemployed freedmen "where fair compensation and kind treatment will be secured to them." Upon arrival at his post in early September 1865, Tillson found the labor system in Georgia in disarray. Able-bodied freedmen were being paid from $2 to $7 per month. Many were of the notion that the Federal Government was planning to distribute land to them at Christmas or New Year's, and thus large numbers of freedmen were refusing to sign labor contracts. Planters, on the other hand, were convinced that the Bureau was the "champion" of the freedmen and totally insensitive to their concerns about freedmen and their unwillingness to labor, and were thus making little effort to prepare for the planting season.⁵

On December 22, 1865, in an effort to remove "false and mistaken impressions" held by the both planters and freedmen, Tillson issued wage guidelines that both parties were expected to follow. Under the new rules, freedmen had the right to choose their own employers, but those freedmen who refused to sign contracts after January 10, 1866, "where employers offer good wages and kind treatment," had to accept contracts that the Bureau made for them. In upper and middle Georgia, where the land was poor and unsuited for raising large quantities of crops, Tillson instructed his officers to secure contracts paying men $12-$13 per month, and $8-$10 dollars per month for women. Freedmen were to provide for their own clothing and medicines. In other parts of the state and along the coast and southwestern Georgia, where "good crops" could be raised, men were to be paid $15 per month, including board and lodging, and women $10 per month. In areas where planters preferred to pay a share of the crop, the order required payment of "from one-third the gross to one half the net proceeds."⁶

Realizing that not all planters would comply with his new wage guidelines, Tillson instructed his subordinates to call on the military to enforce his orders whenever necessary. He was aware in spite of his orders, many of the contracts being signed, even some approved by his own agents, were substandard and not in compliance with his wage schedule. He made clear to both his agents and the planters that such contracts would not be recognized. To emphasize the importance of and his commitment to fair contracts and compensation for freedmen, Tillson offered transportation to freedmen to such areas as southwest Georgia and the Mississippi Valley where wages were higher. In a November 1866 report to Commissioner Howard, Tillson indicated that he had issued 381 orders for transportation for some 2,947 men and 1,013 children.⁷

Safeguarding rights and securing justice for freedmen was a major area of concern for the Freedmen's Bureau. Following the Civil War, several Southern states enacted a series of laws commonly known as "black codes," which restricted the rights and legal status of freedmen. Freedmen were often given harsh sentences for petty crimes and in some instances were unable to get their cases heard in state courts. In a circular issued by Commissioner Howard on May 30, 1865 (Circular Number 5), Assistant Commissioners were directed to "adjudicate, either themselves or through officers of their appointment, all difficulties arising between negroes themselves, or between negroes and whites or Indians." In response to Howard's circular, General Tillson issued an order on November 15, 1865 (Circular Number 4), instructing his officers to hear and make determinations in cases involving freedmen in which the disputed sum did not exceed $50, or the punishment did not exceed $50 or 30 days' imprisonment. Agents were also told that they could "try offences committed by or against freedmen, provided the sentence imposed does not exceed one hundred and fifty dollars or imprisonment for at hard labor for sixty days." Tillson further ordered that "It is preferred that all cases of any importance . . . whenever under the laws there of [the State of Georgia], or by agreement of the parties . . . [where] the testimony of Freedmen can be admitted . . . the Agent will turn them over to the civil authorities for trial." To carry out Tillson's orders, agents were to establish three-member tribunals (known as freedmen's courts) consisting of a Bureau official and two citizens, one chosen by each party involved in the case.⁸

However, when the Georgia State Legislature passed an act conferring civil rights on "persons of color," approved March 17, 1866, Tillson advised his officers on April 6 (Circular Number 4) that they were no longer required to comply with Commissioner Howard's orders of May 30, 1865. While Tillson told his agents that they were to continue to follow instructions issued by him on November 6, 1865 (Circular Number 4), "all cases exceeding their jurisdiction, unless otherwise specially directed by the Department Commander, [were to] be turned over to the civil authorities of the State for adjudication." Despite the Bureau's efforts to secure justice and civil rights for freedmen in Georgia, blacks continued to complain to the agency about some of the "most fiendish and diabolical outrages" suffered by them at the hands of gangs known as "Regulators," "Jayhawkers," and the "Black-horse cavalry." Perpetrators of crimes against freedmen were often not apprehended or prosecuted by civil authorities. At various times, because of increased hostilities toward freedmen and the failure of civil authorities to take action in their cases, Bureau officials in Georgia were compelled to reassert their authority.⁹

Bureau educational activity began in Georgia in October 1865, when G. L. Eberhart was appointed as superintendent of schools (later education). In August 1867, Edward A. Ware succeeded Eberhart. In January 1869, Assistant Commissioner Maj. John R. Lewis assumed the duties of superintendent of education. Lewis served in both capacities until May 1869, when the office of Assistant Commissioner was discontinued, and remained as superintendent education until May 1870. The records of the two offices were not combined. Ware, who had been acting as assistant superintendent, remained in Georgia as acting superintendent until August 1870, when all Bureau officers except the claims agents were withdrawn from the state.

Congress's failure to provide an appropriation for the Freedmen's Bureau during its first year of operation, impacted significantly on the agency's ability to provide adequate assistance for freedmen education. With limited financial resources, the Bureau provided help when it could, and worked vigorously to encourage freedmen and Northern benevolent societies to take on the primary responsibility for providing support for black schools. G. L. Eberhart and his successors were of the opinion that "colored people who are unwilling to help educate their children do not deserve to have schools." To encourage freedmen to participate in this self-support effort, Eberhart urged them to establish educational associations. With assistance from local Bureau agents, educational associations were established in the subdistricts of Thomasville, Bainbridge, Albany, Georgetown, Cuthbert, and Americus. In early 1866, the "pay your own way" policy led to the founding of the Georgia Educational Association (initially organized as the Georgia Equal Rights Association). The Educational Association worked closely with the Bureau and Northern aid societies and became the model "to encourage the people [freedmen] to organized effort in supporting their own schools & managing their own affairs." By the end of 1866, freedmen owned 57 schoolhouses and provided support for 96 of the 127 schools in the state. By the spring of 1867, freedmen contributions sustained some 104 schools and teachers and more than 3,000 students. During the same period, the Bureau maintained some 44 schools and 50 teachers and close to 3,100 pupils. Northern aid societies provided support for 84 schools, 78 teachers, and over 7,000 students. Freedmen also defrayed the expenses for 45 schools under the control of the Bureau and the aid societies.¹⁰

With the passage of the Army Appropriations Act on July 13, 1866 (14 Stat. 90), the Bureau received its first appropriation and was able to provide greater assistance in its effort to support freedmen education. In addition to providing some $21,000 for state superintendents' salaries, the Act made available $500,000 more for the rent and repair of school buildings. In the same month, Congress overrode President Andrew Johnson's veto and extended the life of the Bureau for 2 years. In this new legislation (14 Stat. 173), the Bureau was allowed to "seize, hold, use, lease, or sell" Confederate property for the purpose of educating freedmen. The act also required the Bureau to work closely with benevolent groups and to lease buildings to those associations that supplied teachers. By early July 1869, the Bureau had expended nearly $105,000 for the construction and repair of school buildings that provided accommodations for 4,690 students. The Bureau spent an additional $10,471 for the repair of buildings that provided part-time space for more than 3,500 pupils. By the time the Bureau withdrew from Georgia in 1870, the agency had contributed funds for the building of some 50 schools in the state.¹¹

RECORDS DESCRIPTION

These records consist of volumes and unbound records. The volumes reproduced in this microfilm publication were originally arranged by type of record and thereunder by volume number. No numbers were assigned to series consisting of single volumes. Years later, all volumes were arbitrarily assigned numbers by the Adjutant General's Office (AGO) of the War Department after the records came into its custody. In this microfilm publication, AGO numbers are shown in parentheses to aid in identifying the volumes. The National Archives assigned the volume numbers that are not in parentheses. In some volumes, particularly in indexes and alphabetical headings of registers, there are blank numbered pages that have not been filmed.

The volumes consist of letters and endorsements sent and received, press copies of letters sent, registers of letters received, letters and orders received, special orders and circulars issued, registers of complaints, and monthly reports forwarded to the Assistant Commissioner. The unbound documents consist of letters and orders received, unregistered letters and narrative reports received, special orders and circulars issued, general orders and circulars received, monthly reports, and records relating to complaints, labor contracts, patents, and court papers.

LIST OF BOOK RECORDS OF OFFICERS

The single-volume list of book records of officers in Georgia (no date) is arranged by office, with records of the Assistant Commissioner first, followed alphabetically by locations of the subdistrict offices. Included in the list of book records are the type of record in each book or volume, the dates of the volume, and the volume number. Throughout this introductory material and in the Table of Contents, the AGO volume number appears in parentheses in the series descriptions of the records.

Dear Major

This is to request you, that if you have not already forwarded the amount due Mr Thomas for rent, before you receive this not to send it to him, as I have settled with him for the same & have his receipt.

He felt a little shaky as to his pay if I left Newman before he was paid. I therefore paid the amt due him.

I shall be up the first of next week, say Monday. I shall wait any longer than that for the transportation application for.

Dear Sir;

I have rec^d your letter enquiring whether Mr. L. A. Caldwell would take the school at Livingston I have forwarded the same to him for that he may answer you at once. Dr. Rees has spoken his name for connection with Grantville where he taught last term & will probably employ him for that point but he can answer for himself. I think I can get all the places supplied in my district except those where we are not ready to begin. The house at Grantville is going up as rapidly as possible. We are ready to begin at Rochester with the school is already in operation. I wish if you can do so to let me have the $300 for that place to pay for the benches at once. At Grantville we have made up its full portion. I have rec^d $350 from the N. Y. Society & the old people have raised $340. I wish you to pay the freight & benches

Bill,

I am keeping for the bank daily
I pushed for the freight bill & sent it to you yesterday.
I will visit Atlanta early next week to attend our conference & will see you. Dr. Rust will ask you to help build the school house at Greenville. I am, then,
last Sat. & Sun. Mr. Raymond will go next Monday. Cold people furnish horse & board.

At Franklin
we are delayed by a little dispute about the title to land. This will be adjusted soon & we will proceed with the building as I have the money in hand to pay workmen & the cold people have made up their part. I will send you the book which from that point on soon as made out.

I will bring all the bills from Lynchburg where I go next week.
The work here will be fully completed by that time.
I think it
best not to continue school

at Hagerstown to present.
Shady Grove in this County will still be kept up by the bank loved people supporting it as best they can - but would be glad if I & the bank could get a little from you, for she has labored faithfully & has no money but the small contributions of colored people.
Believe me yours truly

Brunswick, April 17th 1868.

Maj. C. T. Watson.

Sir

Your communications of the 7th & 9th inst. in regard to School building have been recd. As Lieut. Risley is absent and will not have an opportunity to send a letter to you before the 25th. I will answer your inquiries to the best of my ability by this mail.

The bills for March were very large, as we tried to put every-thing in that we could for the completion of the building.

Mr. Winton, the superintendent, has made an estimate, and thinks six hundred & fifty dollars ($650.) will complete everything, so the building can be used at least ~~so it can be used~~. The seats have been placed in one room and although not finished they are teaching there.

When Lt. returns he will forward the bills and rolls, as you wish.

It will really need a few dollars more for platforms & desks or tables for teachers and if 25¢ could be used for weights & pulleys for the windows it would soon save more than that amt of broken glass, as the windows are too heavy to be handled safely without weights.

I hope someone from Ad. grs. can visit us after it is all complete.

It is a monument we may well be proud of as I think it will be the finest public building within a hundred miles of here.

You will have full report after Dec. Returns.

We now have but one mail per week so if some of our business is a long time reaching headquarters please make due allowance for the shiftless country in which we live, no stay for for a few months as I, or one shall be glad to get back to God's country

I am

Very Respectfully

pal freedmen on his places in Richmond and Burke Counties. They all appeared to be above the general mass of negroes in intelligence, they appear to be confident that they can do well this year under the contracts they have made with Mr. Walker, if they can only get sufficient provisions for themselves and stock advanced to them, and they feel assured that they will be able to pay for such advances at the end of the year. They all say this is the first chance they ever have had to do for themselves and show what they can do by themselves.

Mr. Walker says they have been selected with a view to their honesty, sobriety, and industry and that the head men are good farmers.

Mr. Walker's character is beyond all doubt that of a perfectly honest gentleman. I made many enquiries before visiting him and got but one reply from every quarter. He was a just and humane master, and his negroes say that he has treated them with perfect satisfaction since they were free. I find that he has built them a church out of his own means and that last year he got up a school for them. That on account of his influence they were allowed to hold their religious meetings when such privileges were denied them in nearly all other places during the war.

I do most sincerely recommend if these colonies can be in any way helped to make this experiment this year, that it be done. To be of use to them it should be done promptly.

Mr. Walker has indicated in the accompanying papers the amounts of corn and bacon they will require, the places at which it should be delivered and the manner it should be rationed out to these people. He has made the estimate as low as possible, but thinks there may be some saving upon this estimate if rationed out to them in small quantities. As they will be in part able to subsist themselves when vegetables are in season.

The estimate is only made for seven months (to the 1st Octr) after which time their crops should be made.

pal freedmen on his places in Richmond and Burke Counties. They all appeared to be above the general mass of negroes in intelligence, they appear to be confident that they can do well this year under the contracts they have made with Mr. Walker, if they can only get sufficient provisions for themselves and stock advanced to them, and they feel assured that they will be able to pay for such advances at the end of the year. They all say this is the first chance they ever have had to do for themselves and show what they can do by themselves.

Mr. Walker says they have been selected with a view to their honesty, sobriety, and industry and that the head men are good farmers.

Mr. Walker's character is beyond all doubt that of a perfectly honest gentleman. I made many enquiries before visiting him and got but one reply from every quarter. He was a just and humane master, and his negroes say that he has treated them with perfect satisfaction since they were free. I find that he has built them a church out of his own means and that last year he got up a school for them, that on account of his influence they were allowed to hold their religious meetings when such privileges were denied them in nearly all other places during the war.

I do most sincerely recommend if these colonies can be in any way helped to make this experiment this year, that it be done. To be of use to them it should be done promptly.

Mr. Walker has indicated in the accompanying papers the amounts of corn and bacon they will require, the places at which it should be delivered and the manner it should be rationed out to these people. He has made the estimate as low as possible, but thinks there may be some saving upon this estimate if rationed out to them, in small quantities, as they will be in part able to sustain themselves when vegetables are in season.

The estimate is only made for seven months (to the 1st Octr) after which time their crops should be made.

Genl. O. O. Howard

Sir - I, with my son & son in law employed last year 49 freedmen in the cultivation of cotton in Burke & Richmond counties. Ga. The result was ruinous to us all.
Many of the laborers were unable to procure employment this year & were very desirous to remain on the land, and I, the owner at their urgent request & not knowing what better to do rented them what they wished, turning over to them 8 mules and dividing among them corn & meat to last two months. I engaged to do my best to procure supplies, to enable them to make their crops, after stating my doubts as to my ability to do so. There was no alternative but to take the risk. They were among the few who had faithfully complied with their engagements & I felt sure that they would do well if they could get meat & bread.
and they have gone to work with a zeal and energy I have never seen surpassed.
I have in the mean time made every exertion
to provide means, when their short supply

shall be exhausted & I deeply regret to say with not the most remote chance of success. The merchants from last years losses are as bad off as the planters & will do nothing except for cash. This none of us have. Including their families there are over 40 people who in two months will be without food for themselves or horses. The preparations they are so hopelessly making will be wasted & want & starvation will be reaped instead of the profits which their industry should merit. I have not as yet had the heart to tell them of my failure to procure supplies, hoping that on appeal to you may avert the dreadful result. God help us; white & black - no man who is not of us & among us has the most distant idea of the utter & absolute ruin of this country. For two years we have labored & suffered as never any people labored & suffered before, and the end is inability to labor further from want of means, and an increase of suffering. I, who could have rationed the largest column of General Sherman's army, which pillaged my plantation & burned my houses & cottages, have 500 bushels of corn housed in one of the rooms of my dwelling, and 700 lbs of pork to sustain my family & my horse upon for 12 months to come, without a dollar, too old & infirm to labor & too poor to hire others, and my sole chance of future subsistence is a small portion of what these freedmen may make. Their failure now entails starvation upon them & me and mine. They think they can be more successful than I was & I have given them every opportunity in my power to test it, at cabinet board, houses & the rent all in their favour. But what avails this, without bacon & corn. Reducing it to the very lowest limit, they will need six hundred bushels corn. Three (3000) thousand pounds bacon with this they can get through. These are the facts - they need no comment. It is in your power to help them & me on some terms. Send an agent if you will, and I will put him in communication with these people. It is not the alms sparingly doled out to sporadic cases of actual pauperism & suffering that will do any good here. It is the strong, the industrious - those who have a regularly organized business - who will succeed if they have means

on this one - these are the ones
to be helped.

I can refer you to Govr C. I. Jenkins, Hon
A. H. Stephens, or any respectable & old citizen of Augusta for identity & reputation with the former I was a candidate from this county against the secession ticket for the secession convention in 1861.

I reside 15 miles from Augusta, and six miles from McBeau station on the Ap. & Augusta R.R. - which is my post office. I have an excellent distributing depot for supplies & if any are to be furnished will honestly aid those in charge in their just distribution.
I trust that I may be notified promptly
of any action in the case so that if no help is to be expected, I may sell my mules & turn the prisoners loose.

Sir:

I have the honor, to remit herewith Vouchers for Arbitration with the Respectfully remarks, I had no idea, that an account for such services was not allowed, that this arbitration was done in favor of a poor colored widow Eliza Caldwell, who, after my report to the Assist. Commissioner was and is still in danger to receive nothing for her and her family's whole years work. With the only intention to help her, I engaged with her consent two reliable freedmen, farming hands, as arbitrators. I took them to the employers Widow Hallis place, 4 miles from Butler, and notwithstanding, that it was not my duty to attend the act of arbitration I went with the party to avoid a possible influence of the white arbitrators on the colored. It was a very troublesome job the walking around and across the whole plantation, counting

NARA 755
and notifying the missed and damaged fence rails, and judging the corn crop - it took 4 1/2 hours.

If these reasons are not sufficient, than it was my fault and I must be the loser of $3. I wish I had this experience eight days before, as I have engaged last week in the neighborhood of Box-Spring Ga two freedmen
for the amount of $2 for the same purpose.

Lieutenant

I return herewith your vouchers for transportation.
The certificate leads one to suppose that the journey was not performed on account of this Bureau, but rather to comply with some instructions from the military authorities, in which case the expenses should be paid by the Cr. Ar. Dept. The certificates should be explicit.

I enclose also for your signature a set of telegram vouchers, those forwarded having attached very large copies that rendered them too clumsy. The copies also were fastened to the wrong side of the account.

Very Respectfully

Your communication dated Oct first has been received, & in reply I would most respectfully state that there has no property come into my hands at any time, belonging to the Recan R F & A L with the exception of office furniture, blank books &c of which from the reading of paragraph three, Article two officers manual I did not suppose it was necessary to make monthly returns the articles having been received from, and receipted for to the I. My return of persons & articles since accompanied by proper vouchers has been

been sent regularly each month & I had supposed that every thing necessary had been done, if such is not the case however will try & make any further return that may be required,

Sir:

I have the honor to enclose herewith corrected "Lists of Stems Expended" in Nov, Dec, & Jan'y, for Approval, with affidavits regarding the loss and destruction of property Appended thereto. Also the "Lists" which have been approved by the Asst. Com^r for such disposal as is proper.

The "Returns"

for the above months await action on the enclosed.

I was not aware that any thing but a "Certificate" was required of a Commissioned officer, regarding losses, but as you direct it, additional affidavits are furnished together with that of ^a witnesses.

The papers would soon have been returned to you, but for the ^{official} absence of Mr North, whose evidence was required.

NARA 1245

"Lists".

If you can pardon such a list
of errors, as my Returns show, for this time,
I can safely promise not to annoy you

Useful lessons are not always lost upon me.

Please to point out any further corrections needed on these papers, when you return them.

Sir,

In order to comply with your instructions contained in your letter of the 18th inst., in regard to the amount and kind of work to be done upon the School House, I would ask for definite instructions for seats and desks.

Enclosed you will find a diagram of the kind proposed to be put up, with the price annexed for the labor and lumber which includes putting them upon the floor in a substantial manner. Should not the price or plan meet your approval, please to send me a sketch of what you desire, in detail.

That more time has been consumed in the erection of the building thus far than was anticipated is true - but the main delay arose from want of the Iron bolts, asked for in the original bill, which it was expected would be purchased in Savannah - as they were in time -

The increase in the cost of material was unavoidable I believe. I feel that I have done all I can do to for the work, and it has not seemed my fault that it was not completed sooner.

It is being pushed now, and with help obtained from Savannah, we hope soon to finish.
